Washington News and Gossip.

The Philadelphia Ledger publishes the following dispatches from Washington, of the 21st.

THE SUFFRAGE VOTE IN THE HOUSE.

Some conservatives who voted for the suffrage bill are adopting all sorts of excuses for the summersaults thrown by them—the object being to cast dust in the eyes of their constituents at home. They are generally attempting to argue that the bill is a "meaningless affair," and that it does not extedd to the negroes the privilges the majority suppose–that is, immediate, unqalified suffrage. The Radical members are far more honest in their expressions, for they declare unhesitatingly and with great glee that the bill confers upon the negroes exactly what it says it does. Its passage in the Senate is regarded as a foregone conclusion, but not by its correspondingly heavy majority as in the House. It is not so certain that the President will sign the bill, when it is passed.

THE CASE OF MR. DAVIS.

The President expressed himself a day or two ago against the project in the House looking to the trial of Mr. Davis by a military court. He is anxious to have the question of treason tried before the highest civil court in the land.

THE MEXICAN TROUBLE.

It is now believed here that Gen. Crawford is indirectly, if not wholly, responsible for the recent difficulties with the Imperialist forces, and if, on receipt of official advices, such is actually found to be the case, he will probably be arraigned for a violation of our neutrality laws.—The Government has on two occasions, since April, issued its warning against filibuster expeditions to Mexico, and the parties engaged, if proven guilty, will assuredly suffer the penalty.

CAPTAIN SEMMES.

Semmes is still confined in the Centre House at the Marine Barracks, and in custody of the officers there. He is quite cheerful and in good health, and spends most of his time in reading. He spends also a portion of his time in writing, and expresses the wish that his trial was soon over.

SENATOR FROM KENTUCKY.

Persons in this city, recently from Kentucky, declare it as their firm belief that the Legislature will elect John C. Breckinridge to the United States Senate, if they feel that it is safe to do so. The last time he attempted to enter Washington was at the head of an army of Confederates.

LOSS OF THE SCHOONER PATTIE MARTIN—DREADFUL SUFFERINGS.

HATTERAS INLET, N. C., Jan. 18.—The schooner Pattie Martin was wrecked just outside the bar at this place during the night of January 7th. She went aground on the shoals and immediately filled. Her crew, consisting of four persons, were compelled to go into the rigging, where the Captain, Denis M. Smith, of Camden, N. J., was frozen to death in about three hours, and the colored cook about half an hour afterwards.

Harris J. Steelman, the mate, and Geo. W. Toleson, a resident of this island, lived until the 12th inst., when they were rescued by the pilots. The feet of both were badly frozen, but it is thought they will eventually recover. They were on the wreck almost five days, and during the last twenty-four hours previous to their rescue fed from the dead body of the negro cook.

Very little of the cargo has been saved, though the vessel has not yet gone to pieces.—She lies where it is impossible to approach her except in a very calm sea, which is not likely to occur very often here at this season.

The Captain's remains have been removed from the wreck, and the negro cook will be removed to-day, as the weather is very calm.

THE SOUTHERN COLONY IN MEXICO—LETTER FROM GEN. STERLING PRICE.

Gen. Sterling Price writes under date of Cordova, Mexico, December, 16th, as follows:

"I write in camp and without shelter, but upon my own six hundred and forty acres near the town of Cordova and the railroad leading from Vera Cruz to the city of Mexico. The lands in this vicinity are not surpassed by any of the Platte lands in fertility of soil, and in the finest climate I ever saw, the thermometer never above ninety degrees or below seventy, and in full view of mountains covered with perpetual snow. I am gratified to be able to say that as soon as the survey was completed, the thirty Confederates now here unanimously tendered me choice of sections. I think I have made a judicious selection. I have donated to the colonists twenty-four acres for a town site on a rushing stream of water and by a large spring of excellent water.

"We have laid off the ground into towns and lots, and named it Carlotta, after the Empress, and we are all upon our lots clearing away the brush to erect our houses. I write to my family to-day to join me here as soon as they can raise the means to do so. I cannot think of returning to the States and be required to ask pardon for the action I took in the struggle. I am entirely satisfied with the part I took. I would do the same again under similar circumstances. I did all that my talents enabled me to do to avert the calamity of war. I was not a secessionist; but when the struggle came I did not hesitate to take the side of the South.

"I pray to God that my fears for the future of the South may never be realized; but when the right is given to the negro to bring suit, testify before courts, and vote in elections, you all had better be in Mexico.

"There is no doubt of the stability of this government; French troops are arriving every week, and the marauding bands that have infested the country for ages past are fast being exterminated; no quarters are given.

"When the character of our lands is well understood, immigration will be a fixed fact under any circumstances, and the finest lands that can now be procured at low rates will command large prices. I have never known the cultivation of lands to yield such large profits. My neighbor, Mr. Fink, (a man of science,) cultivates eighty acres in coffee with ten hands, and sold his last year's crop for $16,000. His coffee field, shaded with every variety of fruit trees, in full bearing, and the walks fringed with the pineapple, is the most beautiful sight I have ever seen. I am, dear sir,

Your friend truly,

STERLING PRICE.

DAILY SENTINEL.

"I WOULD RATHER BE RIGHT THAN BE PRESIDENT."—Henry Clay.

VOL. I. RALEIGH, FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1866 NO. 142.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.

DECISION RELATIVE TO RENTS OF REBEL PROPERTY—A FLOOD OF RECONSTRUCTION SPEECHES—THE SENATE AND NEGRO SUFFRAGE.

The Quartermaster General has made a decision adverse to compensating for rents of property used by the United States military in rebel States during the war.

There are about fifty or sixty members of the House who have notified the Speaker of their intention to make speeches on reconstruction.

The indications in high sources of Republicanism to-night, are that the Senate shiver in the wind on the House negro suffrage bill, and that it will not pass. So much for the determined attitude of the President against it.

THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT.

The constitutional amendment reported in both branches of Congress to-day from the Committee on Reconstruction, is the same in substance as that submitted by Representative Blaine, of Maine, on the 8th inst. It differs only in phrase. Mr. Blaine's amendment excepted from the basis of representation all those to whom political rights or privileges are denied or abridged on account of race or color.—The amendment reported substitutes "elective franchise" for "political rights or privileges." Both excludes negroes from being counted except in States where they are permitted to vote.

THE TROOPS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Several paymasters will start to-morrow for North Carolina to pay off the troops on duty in that State. This completes the payment of the army up till December 31st. Three volunteer regiments, two white and one colored, and two companies of regulars, constitute the entire force in that State.

Dissolution of Copartnership.

THE firm heretofore known as that of Baker, Cowper & Co has this day been dissolved by mutual consent. The duties devolving on one of the partners as Cashier of the Bank of Cape Fear, and the removal of the other to Norfolk (his residence before the war) for the purpose of practicing law, have caused this dissolution. The business will be continued by Mr Pulaski Cowper and Mr James A Moore, late Teller of the Bank of Cape Fear, under the name and style of Cowper & Moore, who will settle up the business of Baker, Cowper & Co

Coe's Super-Phosphate of Lime,

OR

BONE MANURE.

WARRANTED GENUINE.

BEING MADE OF THE BEST MATERIAL AND in the most approved manner, it is recommended to the public as superior to any other in the market. All who have used it speak of it in the highest terms of praise, and those engaged in its manufacture will continue their best endeavors to advance the high reputation which it has acquired.

We guarantee the Phosphate to be well manufactured, and recommend it in preference to any other artificial manure in the market. We consider it nearly equal to the best Peruvian Guano, although furnished at half the price.

Messrs B H. Allen & Co., the well known manufacturers of agricultural implements, say of it:

"We take pleasure in stating that we have sold E. F Coe's super Phosphate of Lime for four years—It has given universal satisfaction to our customers. We most cheerfully endorse it as an article worthy of the confidence of the public, and the purchaser may rely upon securing an article honestly and carefully manufactured.

"We would state that, after careful examination we believe this Phosphate has been improved each year since its introduction in this market, and that it will continue to maintain its present high standing "Very respectfully,

"B. H. ALLEN & CO.,
"No 191 Water street, New York."

Gov. Worth's Message.

The very general favor with which the late message of Gov. Worth has been received, both in and out of the State, very fully shields him from invidious and captious criticism. To kind and just criticism, the Governor would by no means object.

We have heretofore stated, that the severe pressure upon him, after his brief assumption of his duties, left him but little opportunity to draw up a message, and hope, whatever, to call to his aid the graces of rhetoric or to sugar over his honest convictions to make them the more palatable. But we did not suppose that the most fetid prejudice would find aught upon which to base an objection to its "loyalty."

It remains for the astute editor of the Wilmington Herald, who would feign set himself up as an authorized defender of the government, to pick a flaw or ventilate the charge of "disloyalty" against Jonathan Worth!

Gov. Worth could not avoid, of course, alluding to the continuance of the military and the Freedmen's Bureau in the State, in order to point out to the Legislature the necessity of such action, on its part, as would render their continuance in the State no longer necessary. The Herald says, that in the Governor's "allusions to the exercise of authority in this State by the United States, his language has been characterized as untimely and intemperate." Further, it says, that the Governor, in his message, "uses language that implies that the government of the United States is treating us unjustly." It would have been quite as well for the Herald to have quoted the "untimely and intemperate" language of the Governor, that its readers might be the judges of its temper. It would have been equally just, for it to have shown by a quotation from the message, that the Governor has even intimated "that the government of the United States is treating us unjustly." But that does not suit its captious habit, nor its purpose to treat unjustly one against whom it would excite prejudice.

We have carefully read the message. Knowing that the U. S. government has no truer friend in the State, and that no one respects its authority more, either in civil or military matters, than Gov. Worth, we did not look for any exhibition of "untimely or intemperate" language from him, nor for the accusation that the government was treating us unkindly. Nor have we found either upon a review of it.

It would have been out of place for the Governor to have dilated upon matters touching the rights and powers of the government or its conduct towards the State, which were fully as well known to the Legislature as to himself.—The past and the present were not points then to be considered. His business was to direct the attention of the Legislature to the future.—The present surroundings were anomalous and consequently not desirable, and therefore, looking to the better day when the State should be restored to all her civil functions, his duty was to urge promptly upon the Legislature to perform its part in order thereto. Does he speak unkindly of the government? Does he intimate that the existence of the military or of the Bureau had never been necessary, or that their administration had been illegitimate and tyrannical? Not a word of it. He very plainly shows that he does not desire their continuance longer than is absolutely neccessary. In this, he expresses the universal desire not only of the people but of the authorities themselves. The "intemperate," language, and the charge of injustice, were all in the eye of the Herald, and no where else.

John A. Stanly, Esq.

From a letter received from this gentleman, dated at Wilmington, a few days ago, we learn that Mr. Stanly has removed to California. We trust the change will greatly enure to the benefit of our esteemed friend. Dear to us as the Old North State is—loth as we would be to expatriate ourselves from our native soil, we cannot doubt the wisdom of those who seek a home which is more inviting. If the evil designs of the ultra radicals of the North against the South, now treasured up in their hearts, are executed, we have no doubt we shall wish ourselves among the savages of the Sandwich Islands or of New Zealand. We rejoice that we have, however, a noble breakwater against the waves of Radicalism in the person and policy of President Johnson.

Torn or Worn Bills.

We warn our friends not to take worn or torn green backs or small currency, that is much defaced, as they are not current and are heavily discounted. Don't send us such bills or they will be returned. By the way, the public ought to be protected in this matter. Is there no place where U. S. currency is redeemed when it becomes defaced?

ELECTION IN PITT, Co.—The Speaker of the House of Commons, on yesterday, issued a writ to the Sheriff of Pitt, directing an election to be held in that county, on the 12th of February, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. Hasraban.

Distillation of Grain.

We did not intend by our remarks on yesterday, to indicate the slightest opposition to the bill passed in the House; so far from it, we appreciate entirely the motives and objects of its supporters, and believe that the plan proposed by the bill, the only effective method of warding off the evils anticipated. The Legislature can attain no higher position, than when it rises above the clamors of personal interest, to guard society against a positive evil, and to protect the masses of the people from absolute want and suffering.

We only intended to guard the body against the adoption of such a bill as would be rendered null by the decision of the Courts. Our confidence in the merits and constitutionality of this bill have been greatly strengthened, by the strong views of one of the ablest jurists of this or of any other State, in a conversation, sustaining entirely its constitutionality, since we penned our article.

There is no limit to the powers of a State Legislature, but the Constitution of the State and the Constitution of the United States, and the laws passed by Congress. Whatsoever these do not inhibit postively or by fair construction, the Legislature of a State may do fearlessly, and in nothing are its powers so happily and properly exercised, as when they are exerted for the preservation of the public peace and morals, and the protection of the masses against want and suffering.

The securing the greatest good to the greatest number, is not only a wise policy, entirely consonant with our republican institutions, but is dictated by humanity and duty. Many honorable and worthy persons, prompted by the pressing emergencies of the times, have doubtless engaged in distillation, and there may be among them some who may feel aggrieved at what they may deem the harshness of the bill, but this class of persons will readily yield to the claims of humanity and to the convictions of their own consciences, and recognise the necessity for the bill.

Penal laws are not made for the good, but for the evil. Good citizens will yield to the demands of a stringent law, to promote the general welfare, while nothing short of a rigid severity will restrain the vicious and the lawless.

The suppression of distillation in the State, will check the present large drain upon the circulation of the State in the shape of taxes for the U. S. Treasury, and preserve the grain for a better use.

Patent Office Reports.

We are much indebted to the Hon. T. C. Theaker, Commissioner of the U. S. Patent Office, for his reports for the years 1860 and 1861.

MR. MCADEN'S BILL.—We neglected to say on yesterday, that prior to the passage of the bill in the House, the section respecting the so-called "Stay Law" was stricken out.

For the Sentinel

Distillation of Grain.

MESSRS EDITORS.—I hope you will urge upon the Legislature the necessity of passing some law, to stop the distillation of spiritious liquors, out of breadstuffs. I assure you that there is a great necessity for some such measure. In counting up a few days ago, I was told that there were six distilleries in full blast within two miles of the upper mines, in the eastern part of this County. The tax of $2 per gallon is nothing. It only raises the price to the consumer. The consequence is, that corn in many parts of the country, is $2 per bushel. Many of our people paid the freedmen for their year's work in corn. These are known to be improvident, and will generally exchange their last bushel for liquor. The consequence will inevitably be, that in a short time, unless this evil is stopped, there will be an unprecedented amount of robbing, larceny &c. It is impossible for a man who expects to buy corn for bread, to enter the market with the distiller. Out of one bushel of corn, he makes two and a half gallons of whiskey, which he sells readily at $10. If he makes a fair return to the tax assessor, of the amount distilled, his bushel of corn would turn out $5. A negro will sell his own corn, and steal from his neighbor, and sell it for a mere trifle in liquor. It should be made a criminal offence to distil for them, and the duty of the Sheriff, at once to suppress this business, and have the parties bound over to the Court to answer criminally for the offence. I earnestly trust you will call the attention of the Legislature to this through your valuable paper. Unless something is done there must be great suffering before the wheat crop comes in.

Yours Respectfully,
CHATHAM, Co. N. C. Jan. 20. R.

Public Taxes.

We are indebted to R. W. Best, Esq., Secretary of State, for the following important bill, just passed by the Legislature:

AN ACT TO EXTEND THE TIME FOR COLLECTING OF TAXES.

Whereas, By an ordinance of the late Convention, entitled "An ordinance to provide revenue for the year 1865, ratified the eighteenth day of October, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, it is made the duty of the Sheriffs of this State to collect taxes in their respective Counties, and pay over the same to the Public Treasurer before the 1st day of February, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six: And, whereas, doubts and difficulties have existed on this subject, rendering a strict compliance on the part of said Sheriffs impracticable at present:

Therefore, Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same: That the Sheriffs of this State be allowed time until the twentieth day of Ferbuary, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, to collect in their respective counties, and pay over to the Public Treasurer, the taxes imposed by the ordinance of the convention aforesaid, ratified on the eighteenth day of October, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five.

Be it further enacted, That this act be in force from and after its ratification.

In General Assembly, read three times, and ratified this 25th day of Jan. A. D. 1866. | S. F. PHILLIPS, Speaker Ho. Com. THOS. SETTLE, Speaker Senate.

A true copy of the original on file in this office.

Given under my hand, the 25th day of January 1866.

R. W. BEST.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

SENATE.

THURSDAY Jan. 25.

The Senate was called to order at 10 o'clock A. M.

Prayer by Rev. Dr. Mason, of the Episcopal Church. The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Mr. Bynum, from the Committee on Judiciary reported back the bill, on the continuation of Provisional Officers in office until successors are appointed, with a recommendation that it do pass, and on motion of the same, the rules were suspended and the bill passed its final reading. This bill elicited considerable discussion, in which Messrs. Morehead and Bynum, took part in support of it, and Messrs. Wilson and Leitch against, chiefly however as to its necessity.

Mr. Bynum, from the same Committee, reported back the bill to attach the county of Mitchell to the 8th. Judicial cricuit and recommended that the bill do pass, and on motion the rules were suspended and the bill passed its final reading.

Mr. Leach of Davidson, from the Committee on finance, to whom was referred the resolution on Banks, asked to be discharged from its further consideration and moved its reference to the Committee on Banks. Agreed to.

Mr. Harris of Rutherford, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That in order to devise some plan to raise revenue in some way that will be equitable, and the least burdensome to the people, that the Committee on Finance be, and, are hereby requested to consider the expediency of adopting a "Stamp law," and that they report by bill or otherwise in connection with other report, that they may have to make on the subject, which was read and adopted.

Mr. Covington, introduced a bill in relation to constables, and other officers, requiring, that from and after the passage of the act, all constables and other officers collecting debts upon judgments and executions issued by a Justice of the Peace, shall credit said judgment, and sign the same for the amount received at the time of payment, &c. The bill was read and referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

A message from the House transmitting sundry engrossed bills and resolutions, passed their several readings and were referred to appropriate committees.

An engrossed bill from the House empowering the Justices of the county of Carteret to collect taxes in said county for the benefit of the poor, came up, and on motion of Mr. Arendell the rules were suspended and the bill passed its final reading.

Also, a bill to incorporate the Clarendon Bridge Company, came up, and on motion, was referred to the Committee on Corporations.

The bill to prohibit for a limited time the distillation of spirituous liquors from grain, came up on its first reading, and on motion was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, and ordered to be printed.

The special order for the hour of 12, the appointment of magistrates for Burke county, came up, and on motion of Mr. Shober, it was postponed on account of the absence of the Senator from that county, and to avoid the difficulty which occurred on yesterday, relative to the appointments for Yadkin county.

There being no further business before the Senate, Mr. Eure moved to take up the unfinished business of last session. The speaker ruled it out of order, inasmuch as the Governor's message had declared this to be the beginning of a new session, and that all business must begin de novo. On motion the Senate adjourned until to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

THURSDAY, Jan. 25, 1866.

The House was called to order at 10 o'clock A. M. Prayers by Rev. Dr. Mason of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The Journal of yesterday was read and approved.

Messrs Everett and Harrison, were permitted to record their votes in favor of the bill to prohibit for a limited time, the distillation of spiritous liquors from grain, passed on yesterday.

Sundry bills were reported from standing committees, which will be fully noticed when taken up for action.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

Mr. Joiner introduced "a bill to encorporate the Weldon Enterprise and Loan Company." Referred. Mr. Wilson, "a bill to allow the securities of William Green, late Sheriff of Haywood county, to collect arrears of taxes. Referred.

Mr. Russell; a bill to provide for the payment of the Federal Land Tax for the year 1861, due by citizens of this State. (Authorizing the Treasurer to sell State Bonds, bearing 6 per cent. interest, and running twenty years, and to appropriate the proceeds to the payment of said taxes.) Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. Jenkins of Granville; "a bill for the benefit of the Public Schools of the State." (Provides for the conversion of bonds and other securities belonging to the Literary Fund, into bonds of the United States.) Ordered to be printed and referred to the Committee on Education.

Mr. Blackmer; a bill concerning the mileage and per diem of members of the Council of State. (Fixes the per diem and mileage at the rates allowed members of Assembly.) Passed under a suspension of the rules.

Mr. Everett, moved a reconsideration of the vote by which on yesterday, the bill to prohibit the distillation of grain, passed its third reading.

Mr. E. said he made this motion, because he was convinced that the bill as passed would work great hardship and injustice to people in moderate circumstances. Freedmen, who cannot testify in courts of justice would be employed by men of means, in illicit distilling, who would thus evade the law with impunity, there being but little danger of a conviction under such circumstances. The object of the bill was doubtless a good one, but it would operate unjustly against poor men, who were unable to employ freedmen to still for them.

On motion of Mr. Hutchison, the yeas and were ordered.

The House refused to reconsider, as follows:

AYES—Messrs. Ashworth, Barnett, Black, Bryson, Burgess, Carson, Coates, Craige, Dargan, Davis, of Carteret, Davis, of Halifax, Donnell, Everett, Farrow, Furr, Garland, Hamilton, Henry, Hoke, Horton, Jenkins, of Gaston, Jenkins, of Granville, Jones, Joyner, Logan, Luke, Lyon, Matthews, McAden, McDonald, McGuire, McIntosh, Melson, Moore, of Alamance, Murrill, Nicks, Paschall, Simmons, Smith, of Columbus, Smith, of Guilford, Scoggin, Trull, Waugh, Wheeler and York—45.

NAYS—Messrs. Allison, Arrington, Baxter, Beasley, Blackmer, Blair, Blythe, Bonner, Burton, Caldwell, Cameron Candler, Chadwick, Cowan, Cox, Crawford, Dalby, Faircloth, of Green, Faircloth, of Wayne, Fetrell, Flythe, Foster, Gaines, Gidney, Harper, Harrison, Hawes, Hodnett, Holderby, Holmes, Houston, Hutchison, Hyman, Jenkins, of Warren, Judkins, Kenan, Kinney, Lee, of Gates, Lucas, Manly, McEachen, McKay, McNair, Moore, of Chatham, Moore, of Martin, Mott, Niven, Newsum, Potter, Rosebro, Russell, Shaw, Smith, of Cumberland, Stilley, Thigpen, Webb, Whitley, Williams, and Wilson—59.

A message was received from the Senate, transmitting an engrossed bill authorizing the Public Treasurer to collect and sell certain property belonging to the State. Referred to the committee on Finance.

Also, a message transmitting Senate nominations for Justices of the Peace for Yadkin county.

Mr. Nicks moved to strike from the list the name of S. S. Arnold, for the reason that he is obnoxious to a large number of his neighbors. He, also, moved to substitute the name of H. C. Felts.

Mr. Waugh opposed the motion. Mr. Arnold, he said, was a gentleman of high standing, and well qualified for the position. He was obnoxious only to those who wished to proscribe and punish any one who had said anything above a whisper in favor of the recent war. Mr. Felts, whose name was proposed as a substitute, was not fit to be a Justice of the Peace. He was the leader of a party who were engaged in hunting down all honest men—a clique which had rendered necessary the holding a court of Oyer and Terminer in Yadkin county, which sent some of his (Felt's) particular friends to jail for their doings.

Mr. Nicks endorsed Mr. Felts—reiterated the assertion that Mr. Arnold was obnoxious to his neighbors. He was not aware before that any thing Mr. Felts had done had occasioned the holding of the court of Oyer and Terminer. The two men imprisoned were convicted of assault and battery.

The question recurring, the House refused to strike out the name of Mr. Arnold, and also to add the name of Mr. Felts.

A message from the Senate also transmitted resolutions heretofore published in relation to the cessation of military rule—the restoration of civil authority, &c.

Mr. Manly said that he saw no utility in the resolutions. Many of like character had been passed heretofore. They generally contained mere platitudes and accomplished no good. He moved they be laid on the table. Agreed to.

ON CALENDAR.

The following bills passed their several readings, viz: A bill to continue in office the Provisional officers of certain towns; a bill to amend the charter of the town of Elizabeth City; a bill to incorporate the town of Company Shops; a bill to legalize an election of Mayor and Commissions of the town of Morganton; a bill to incorporate the Portis Gold Mining Company; a bill to amend section 9, chapter 101, revised code, entitled "Roads, Bridges and Ferries."

The following were laid on the table, viz; A bill concerning the qualification of Justices of the Peace; a bill to punish the stealing of stock; a bill to repeal an act to decrease the expenses of Sheriff's returns; a bill to amend section 1st, chapter 12, revised code. (This bill imposed a fine of $25 in bastardy cases where the mother refuses to disclose the name of the child's father.)

A bill to admit the evidence of persons of color in courts of justice in certain cases, was also laid on the table. (This was done under a report of the Judiciary Committee, that a special committee had this subject under present consideration.)

The bill to incorporate Dillwood Cemetery in the county of Guilford, was made the special order for eleven o'clock, to-morrow.

Mr. Davis of Carteret, by leave, introduced a bill to incorporate the town of New Port, in Carteret county, which passed its several readings.

Messrs. Smith of Columbus, and Ashworth, introduced resolutions of inquiry which were referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The Hous then adjourned until 10 o'clock, to-morrow.

Artificial Limbs for Our Soldiers.

The following resolutions introduced by Judge Manly in the House, passed both Houses and have become law. The act is alike creditable to the hearts and heads of the Legislature:

RESOLUTIONS IN BEHALF OF DISABLED SOLDIERS.

WHEREAS, A number of officers and soldiers from North Carolina, engaged upon her call, in the late civil war, have lost their limbs in the service, and are unable from want of means to supply themselves with artificial ones; and whereas, it is considered an eminent work of charity and of justice to assist all such with the common funds of the State, to procure necessary limbs, and thus to restore them, as far as practicable, to the comfortable use of their persons, to the enjoyment of life and to the ability to earn a subsistence; Therefore, it is

Resolved, That His Excellency, the Governor, is hereby empowered and requested to make a contract with some manufacturer of artificial limbs to supply the need of the State at an early day. And to this end, His Excellency is empowered to institute such enquiries and adopt such rules as may be deemed by him most expedient, to ascertain the extent of the need, and the best mode of supplying it with properly fitted limbs.

And be it further Resolved, That the expenses incurred by His Excellency in executing this purpose of the General Assembly shall be paid, upon his warrant, out of the money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

In General Assembly, read three time and ratified, this 23d day of January, 1866.

S. F. PHILLIPS,
Speaker House of Commons.
THOMAS SETTLE,
Speaker of the Senate.

On returning home, after an absence of several weeks, the improvements now going up in various portions of the town, strike us most forcibly. Our streets are still crowded with wagons freighted with country produce, and the stores thronged with purchasers. These evidences of prosperity are to us highly gratifying, as most of the citizens here we are proud to number among our friends. Individually and as an Editor, we have manifold reasons to be grateful to this generous and public spirited community, and the recent manifestation of sympathy and offer of substantial aid have a thousand fold increased our obligation. The people of this "Hornet's Nest of the revolution," have ever been distinguished for genuine patriotism, love of republican liberty, high and ennobling sentiment and heroic impulses.

As long as we have a mind to appreciate and a heart to feel, we will cherish their friendship, and emulate their good qualities. To them all, we return our heart-felt thanks for the deep interest lately displayed in our behalf.—Charlotte Times.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE SUFFRAGE BILL.—There remains little doubt that the President will veto the negro suffrage bill if it reaches him in its present form. So well understood is his intention to-day, that some of the Senators hesitate to pass the bill in that body. Many Republicans who voted for the bill as it passed the House say that they were forced to do it by the tactics of the Democrats, who voted against recommitment. They did not wish to be put in a position of appearing to oppose a qualified extension of suffrage. What effect the veto will have upon the future relations between the President and the Republican party is a matter of interesting speculation.

The Times and other journals having attributed the pressure of the money market to large American exportations on credit,—a commercial letter has been published refuting the argument, showing that remittances had been prompt, and heavy cotton receipts are set off against British exports.

NEGRO TROOPS.—We hail with delight every prospect of the withdrawal of the negro troops from the Southern States. The work is being done step by step. We see it stated that three volunteer regiments, two white and one black, and two companies of regulars, constitute the entire force now in North Carolina. The papers at Washington state that the Government has concluded to garrison the forts and protect the routes on the plains with negro troops, and that at least three full regiments will be dispatched to the Indian country.—*Rich. CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

CITY MATTERS.—It will be seen that, at the last City Council, upon the resignation of Mr. W. R. Richardson as a Commissioner from the middle ward, Gen. R W Haywood was appointed to fill the vacancy. This is a capital appointment, and no doubt will be sanctioned by the voters of the Ward.

Messrs. J. T. Dooling & Co., of Mobile, Ala., sent us an advertisement from Charlotte in this State, announcing that they were Agents for the purchase of Tobacco for a large firm, offering the highest cash prices, and requesting correspondents to address them after the 15th. of January—they meant to say at "Mobile, Ala." but as they by mistake omitted "Mobile, Ala." and as the letter hailed from Charlotte, we put them down for that place. All who wish to sell them tobacco or correspond with them, will therefore please address Messrs. J. T. Dooling & Co., Mobile, Ala.

SHERIFFS.—We learn that the Sheriffs of Ashe, Franklin and New Hanover have made full settlements of taxes with the Public Treasurer. The Sheriffs of Edgecombe and Wayne have made partial settlements. The Sheriff of New Hanover, R. J. Jones, Esq. paid over $21,000.

Corporation Proceedings.

The Board met this evening pursuant to odjournment.

Present, Col. Wm. H. Harrison, Mayor.

Messrs. C. B. Root, Dr. Wm. H. McKee, N. S. Harp, Parker Overby, C. M. Farriss, A. Sorrell, W. R. Richardson, H. Mahler and D. L. Royster, commissioners.

Mr. D. L. Royster appeared, was qualified and took his seat.

On motion of Mr. Richardson, J. J. Christophers was elected clerk to the Board by acclamation.

Mr. W. R. Richardson tendered his resignation as commissioner from the Middle Ward, which was accepted, and on motion of C. B. Root Esq., Gen. R. W. Haywood was elected commissioner from the Middle Ward to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Richardson.

Dr. McKee, chairman of committee on revisal of city charter and salaries, reported, which report was read, and on motion of Mr. Royster, was laid on the table until the next meeting.

An account of J. C. Thompson for $2 was allowed.

Sundry accounts of city night watch, amounting to $546, were presented, read and allowed.

An account of W. C. Emory for $63,75, for repairs on pumps near Mr. Sorrell's residence, was read and on motion laid on the table until next meeting.

An account of D. Johnson for keeping in repair the city pumps from January to May 1865, for $100, was allowed.

An account of J. J. and W. B. Young for lumber furnished the city for $14, was allowed.

An account of J. J. Overby for $7,60, was allowed.

On motion of Dr. McKee, ordered that the Mayor be authorized and requested to employ a nurse to attend to the small pox cases at the hospital.

On motion of Dr. McKee, ordered that Mr. C. L. Johnson has permission to remove his license from the Putney House on Wilmington street, to the Ray house on same street.

Messrs. A. T. Sawyer and W. S. Ray, also have permission to remove their license to their present places of business.

On motion of Mr. Root, ordered that the Clerk furnish three city papers with the proceedings of the Board.

Mr. Thos. Hill petitioned the Board to allow him to remove his license from the corner of Hargett and Wilmington streets to the stables in front of Market square, on Wilmington street, which was rejected.

On motion, the Board adjourned.

J. J. CHRISTOPHERS, Clerk.

RECONSTRUCTION.

Condensed Statement of the Views of the President---Testimony from a Radical Source.

From the National Intelligencer.

Below we publish a letter from the Cincinnati Gazette, the leading Radical newspaper of Ohio. The author of the letter is so well-known that it is hardly necessary to say that he is an intense Radical, but exhibits in all his writings a disposition to see things as they are, and not as he would have them. Besides, he has the requisite force and keenness of intellect to state accurately what the President did say, while superficial minds seek to infer from the phraseology ideas to square with their own.

These expressions of the policy of the President are not new to us. All and singular of them have been stated from time to time in these columns during the past year. Even if we had not the warrant of authority for such versions, none other could be gathered from the very numerous addresses of the President to various delegations of politicians during the past year.

The President and Congress---Authentic Statements, from Written Records, of What the President says.

[Special correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, January, 11.

I have not been swift to rush into print with garbled statements of what the President said to Senator Smith and Representative Jones, (as retailed by them on the avenue,) concerning his relations to Congress, and the existing differences of policy. I have thought it more respectful at once to the President and to my readers, to say nothing till I could speak advisedly.

But it is well that the country should understand precisely how the President does talk, and how the representatives of the people talk to him. If a breach between them is widening, the country should know who widens it; if a disposition to conciliate is shown—who knows it; if an indifference to consequences—who manifests that. I have therefore taken pains to procure correct accounts of several recent interviews with the President. Careful minutes of some were made at the time, and I am writing with there before me.

WHAT CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS HAVE BEEN SUGGESTED.

In one case several members, popularly known as Radicals, said to the President that if he would be satisfied with constitutional amendments, basing representation on voters, making all men equal before the law, excepting in the matter of suffrage, repudiating rebel debt, and guaranteeing national obligations, they would make an effort to bring the party in Congress to an adjustment of the reconstruction question on that basis, and would even go to the length of admitting Tennessee in advance of all the other States and of the general adoption of this policy by the South, if she would individually agree to these amendments.

Without entering into any serious consideration of their subject-matter, the President said that he had objections on general grounds to any constitutional amendments. He had once been in favor of some himself, and was on the record in their favor; but these were changed times, and the tendency was too great toward unsettling the foundations of things. These frequent amendments were calculated to weaken the force and solemn sanction of the Constitution, and make its provisions like the work of town meetings. As to any propositions for making the payment of the rebel debt unconstitutional, he considered them unnecessary, and doubted their propriety. The Southern people were in no danger of ever wanting to pay those debts. The objections in the South to their payment would every year grow stronger and stronger. How would it look to provide by a constitutional amendment that the United States debt should not be repudiated? Yet this would be no more improper than the other. Furthermore, there was gross inconsistency in the proposed mode of securing these constitutional amendments. They were to be proposed by a Congress from which the South was excluded. Then the rebel States who were unfit to be represented in Congress, were to be considered fit to ratify a constitutional amendment. If they were expected as States to act upon the question of ratifying them, they should be permitted, through their representatives in Congress, to act also in proposing them. In effect, he did not think it right to demand the adoption of any constitutional amendment as a condition of admitting Southern members to Congress, because those States were in now and entitled to all the rights of the States.

LEGAL GUARANTEES SUGGESTED.

Perhaps the most generally accepted plan of reorganization involves constitutional amendments. But there are others in Congress who prefer to regulate the whole subject by law. Among those are most who wish to meet squarely the rugged issue of negro suffrage. In the last Congress Mr. Winter Davis came very near carrying through such a law. Substantially the same measure is now before Congress again, and is known as Ashley's bill. Numerous Congressmen have urged this upon the President's attention, and more have pressed the general policy of providing rather by law than by constitutional amendment the guarantees which the entire Union party (with exceptions too insignificant to be mentioned) agree in considering essential to any safe organization.

To such suggestions the President has replied that he considered Mr. Ashley's measure as simply a bill for the dissolution of the Union. He had risked his own life and property to preserve the Union. The people of the country stood, and had stood, upon the position that the rebellion was to be put down and the States thereby kept into the Union. Mr. Ashley's bill now proposed to turn them out and prescribe conditions for their return.

He thought the true course for the Union party to pursue was "with open arms and cordial hands" to welcome these States into a participation in the Government. Thus we would have them as the friends of the Union party, and not make them its enemies by slamming the door in their faces.

THE PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT OF HIS OWN THEORY OF RECONSTRUCTION.

In such connections, the President has more than once stated his own theory of reconstruction in words much more explicit than have found their way into the public documents.

During the rebellion the loyal Government had in a sense been overthrown. It was therefore the duty of the United States and of the President, during this time, to do all in their power to secure to these States republican governments. This became especially his own duty, as one charged with seeing that the laws were executed. His own action in prescribing terms upon which these States should be recognized, in so far as he had prescribed any, not in harmony with their forms of State government, or in so far as it seemed to imply that they would not be recognized as States unless they complied with his conditions, was in reality and was meant to be only advisory. He had not intended that his own requirements should be considered as conditions precedent, which the Executive, or any branch, or all branches of the Government had any right to exact, before these States should be entitled to recognition as States in the Union.

In fact, these States were entitled to be represented in Congress all through the rebellion.—Indeed, there was greater reason for their being then represented than there was at other times. Congress had repeatedly dealt with them as States during the rebellion. Members from Virginia, for example, were admitted. Direct taxes were apportioned among them just as among the other States. The 9th section of the act of the 7th of June, 1862, in its latter clauses recognized the same principle.

The rebel States are, therefore, now in the Union. Indeed, their governments are more republican, more democratic, more in harmony with the spirit of our institutions than they ever were before. If Congress would only look out there now, it would see legislators, Governors, State officers of all grades, members of Congress, all elected by the people; courts in session, taxes being collected, mails being carried. Surely, these make States in the Union, if they ever were in it.

OF THE ADMISSION OF SOUTHERN MEMBERS OF CONGRESS.

In numerous interviews, the President has stated to different gentlemen, in substantially the same language, his views concerning the admission of rebel Congressmen. In one of the minutes before me I find a memorandum to this effect:

He repeatedly alluded to its being the prerogative and constitutional duty of each House to judge of the merits of each claimant's election by itself. This also was the wise way of keeping bad men out of Congress, who might not, thro' personal disqualification, be entitled to seats. But it was grossly wrong to exclude States because of objections to individuals. Each claimant's case should rest on and be decided according to his individual merits.

Representation in Congress was but one of the rights of States under the Constitution. Exclusion from Congress does not, therefore, prevent these rebel States from enjoying and exercising other constitutional rights over which Congress, in spite of its denial of their rights, has no control.

THE PRESIDENT ON PARTY POLICY.

In the same line of conversation, the President, a few days ago, said to certain Representatives, that the South had travelled a great way in a short time. They had freed the slaves. They had provided that no future legislation should enslave them. They had recognized certain civil rights of the late slaves. They had adopted the constitutional amendment prohibiting slavery.

Under such circumstances the public sentiment of the country would sooner or later insure their recognition by Congress. For himself, he would feel a personal pride in having this accomplished by the same Union party which had carried the country through the war. Such a party, with such a history, ought to finish its work by bringing back all these States into their true relations in a fully restored Union.

Recently certain prominent men of Massachusetts, in a conversation with him, had disclosed a fear that our party ascendancy might be endangered if the South should come in, and should act (as it always used to act) as a unit.—Yet how many members were there to be let in from the rebel States? Only 58. But the House has now over 200. (In this the President made a mistake. The House has but 182.) It argued a large amount of distrust of the North, and a large estimate of these 58, to suppose that they could ruin the Government or obtain the ascendancy in Congress.

FEELING AND BEARING OF THE PRESIDENT.

Throughout all these interviews the President's manner has been kind and considerate.—No lack of respect has been shown for Congressmen; no disposition to attempt any coercive measures. On the other hand he has exhibited no sense of dependence on Congress, and no feeling of even the slightest apprehension as to the result. He constantly refers to "the people" with a manifest conviction that public sentiment is overwhelmingly on his side; and that in the event of any difference between himself and Congress on these points, the party and the country will be sure to sustain him.

I do not believe there is any evidence whatever that the President has made a single step toward the employment of his patronage as a means of enforcing his views. Members of the Cabinet expressly deny that anything of the sort has ever been suggested to them.

AGATE.

Wilmington, Charlotte and R. R. R.

An adjourned meeting of the Stockholders of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Rail Road, was held on the 18th inst.

Dr. H. H. Robinson was appointed President, W. H. Allen and R. P. Atkinson, Secretaries.

A majority of stock being represented, the meeting proceeded to business.

We have not received the President's report, which we presume as a matter of course was presented.

The following officers were elected:

R. H. Cowan, President.

S. J. Person, R. S. French, Thos. D. Meares, John A. McDowell, W. L. Steele, Stephen W. Cole, Samuel H. Walkup, E. N. Hutchison, C. C. Henderson, A. R. Howesley, A. G. Logan, and W. Guion, were elected Directors.

Roger P. Atkinson, Engineer and Superintendent, Eastern Division.

John H. Winder, Engineer and Superintendent, Western Division.

I. T. Alderman, Secretary and Treasurer.

W. H. Allen, Master Transportation.

Jos. A. Gill, Master Machinist.

Wm. J. Everett, Road Master.

The act of the General Assembly to renew the bonds of the Company was accepted by the Stockholders.

The President's salary was fixed at $3500 in gold.

We learn that the directors resolved to proceed at once with the construction of the second section of the western division and the 5th section of the eastern division; and, providing that the remainder of the said eastern section, after reaching a point three miles west of the Pee Dee river, should be made up, that that portion of the road between the river side and Wilmington should be completed.—Wil. Journal.

SOUTHERN TRADE.—The steamship Jupiter, from Newbern, N. C., arrived yesterday with a cargo of 100 barrels rosin, 107 coils telegraph wire, and 4 bales rags. The brig Caroline, from Apalachicola, had a cargo of 396 bales cotton. The schooner Mary Ellen, from Wilmington, N. C., brought 21 bales cotton, 193 barrels tar, 10 barrels turpentine, 50 barrels rosin, and 88,000 shingles. Besides the above, the steamers State of Maryland, from Richmond, and the Adelaide, from Norfolk, entered at the custom-house, bringing assorted cargoes.—Baltimore Sun, 23d.

The Boston Transcript states that General Grant has written a letter to ex-Governor Andrew, of Massachusetts, approving of the "tone and argument" of his valedictory address—which our readers will remember was singularly unlike his previous effusions.—National Intelligencer.

If You are threatened with Pneumania, read the following from Capt. W. P. Davis, of Petersburg, Virginia:

"Sympathy for the suffering prompts me to certify that my servant man was suffering in the last stage of Pneumonia throwing up matter and blood in large quantities; his case was considered hopeless, so much so, that there was no medical prescription used for his recovery; I regarded him as good as dead. Hearing of the great cures made by the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS, I thought that I would try an experiment on him; without any hope of success however. I gave the Pills in large doses; in a short time, to my great surprise, there was a change for the better. I continued giving them to him until he became a perfectly sound man. He is now attending to his work with as much strength and vigor as he ever did. With his case, and what I have seen and heard of the good effect of these Pills, I do most earnestly recommend them as the best family medicine I have ever seen or used."

HAMPSHIRE COAL.

CARGO OF 275 TONS HAMPSHIRE COAL DAILY expected from Baltimore.

This coal is bituminous, and perhaps the best coal known for steam purposes whether for locomotives or steamboats. It is used almost exclusively by Northern railroad companies and the Cunard Steamers. It is also represented as the best blacksmith's coal in the country and is very extensively used in iron works for forging, etc. It is soft and friable, the fine coal being as good for use as the lump.

The attention of railroad companies, iron works and machine shops, is particularly invited to the importance of a trial of this coal.

The undersigned having been appointed agent for the Hampshire and Baltimore Coal Company, will be prepared to furnish any quantity required, at a reasonable price.

Orders respectfully solicited.

PROSPECTUS

COSMOPOLITE.

ON THE FIRST OF JANUARY WE WILL commence the publication, in the City of Baltimore, of a monthly

Literary Magazine.

There is no publication of this character now issued South of New York City, and the closing of the war has left a large portion of the people of the country with no literary representative.

The COSMOPOLITE will be devoted to

Literature, Art, Reviews, Scientific Papers and General Reading, and we shall number among its contributors some of the first literary men of the South, with others from the North and from London and Paris.

All matter not original will be carefully selected from the newest and best of the English, French and German publications; and its Editors will spare no effort or expense to make it rank with the VERY FIRST magazines of the country.

As its home interests we have established the COSMOPOLITE upon a national basis. We hope to make it the organ of general literature alone; and will be unaffluenced by any party or clique whatever.

It will be mailed to subscribers in any part of the country upon receipt of the following

Subscription:

Single Copies, for one year,	$4 00
Five Copies for one year,	18 00
Ten Copies for one year,	38 00

☞ The COSMOPOLITE will be generally distributed among the Merchants and Planters of the South, and we will add, for their information, a few advertisements at moderate rates.

☞ Liberal deductions will be made to booksellers and newsdealers.

☞ Newspapers publishing this prospectus and sending a marked copy to the undersigned, will receive a copy of the magazine.

PROSPECTUS.

THE publication of

The North Carolina Presbyterian

will be resumed in Fayetteville, on Wednesday, the 2nd of January next.

Confidently relying on the hearty support which we have before received, we shall endeavor to render the paper more attractive, both in appearance and matter, than it has ever been, sparing neither pains or expense in the accomplishment of this purpose.

With the passing away of old things, a new spirit of activity, energy and enterprise, has been infused into every department of secular thought and business. Why should not the Church, also, partake of the progressive advancement? Why should she, of all the agencies brought to bear with such tremendous force upon the civilization of the present time, be inefficient, laggard and almost hopeless in the working out of her own destiny?

To arouse the church to the importance and necessity of work; of unceasing, restless, tireless energy in the service of her Master and Head; this shall be our first and chief aim. In this we need assistance. We are not, alone, sufficient for these things. Our brethren must help us in every way; by contributions from the rich own stores of thought and study; by zealous co-operation in a common cause, for the benefit of all; by extending our circulation throughout all our borders, and thus giving us the means and the opportunity of performing well the work to which we have consecrated all that we have, and all we hope for on earth.

DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E. PELL, Proprietor.

Letter of John Randolph, of Roanoke.

The following letter of this distinguished statesman, written to J. R. Bryant, Esq. many years ago, imparts lessons of wisdom which can never cease to apply to the youth of every age:

LONDON, December 28, 1830.

My Dear God-Son:—Although I have so lately written to your better half, and at such tedious length, too, yet I cannot refrain from the attempt to engraft an old head upon young shoulders, notwithstanding my belief that no man was ever the wiser for another man's experience. There are too many who are unable to profit by their own; witness the gamester and the spendthrift, not to mention another class of victims of licentious propensities mattred into habitual indulgence. Each of those wretched votaries of his darling vices is more sensible of the ruinous effects of his folly than any preacher who exhorts him against the consequences. He that wears the chains best knows how and where the fetter galls. They that declaim against the fixed ill habits of their neighbor, under the expectation of reforming him, only show that themselves are coxcombs. Rather sententatious and flat this you will say, and you will tell the truth.

Having established yourself in Gloucester, let me remind you "not to put off until to-morrow what may be done to-day;" and "fortiori," not to leave till next year what could be done this, (1831.) Plant all sorts of trees. Man and boy, I knew John Lewis for some forty years or so, although I never was in his house. It is probable he may have saved you the trouble of rearing orchards. But, be that as it may, fail not to have a good apple orchard, especially, and banish ardent spirits as a beverage from your table. I have serious fears on this head for a certain young * * * * * * If, at the beginning, you are obliged to resort to spirits, let your wife make the punch or toddy by measure, of a certain strength never to be increased, according to the good old Virginia fashion.

2. Have no dealing, that can possibly be avoided, with your neighbors. The disregard of this caution will certainly lead to squabbles and strife.

3. Take no receipts on loose pieces of paper. Carry a receipt book in your pocket, and take all receipts in it; if you are afraid of losing it keep it in your desk. Always have the receipts witnessed, when practicable.

4. Copy, or have copied, all your bills in a book, so that you may, at a glance, see the cost of any article or branch of expense. Without accurate accounts you must fall behind-hand. What voyage would a ship make without observation or reckoning? You are now embarked on the voyage of life; without a good look-out you must be cast away.

5. Form no intimacies with your neighbors under a seven years' acquaintance—"qui cult deciplatur." The rigid observance of my own maxims did not prevent ill-blood between some of my neighbors and myself. My maxims preserved me from strife, and from loss by those. With the rest I was on the best of terms.

6. Economy: the adapting your supplies judiciously to their intended end. This is a gift of God. It cannot be taught, at least I have tried to learn it all my life, without success. My mother had it in perfection.

7. Frugality: "Non intelligunt homines quam magnum vectigal sit parsimonia." It is in the power of every honest man, who means to retain his honesty, to refrain from indulging in expenses which he cannot afford. A disregard of this maxim, the result of their indolent ignorance of their own affairs, has ruined all my name and race; they did not know what they could afford, and some, I fear, did not care.

I shall send you some acorns of an oak from Turkey, and also a few English. Plant them in beds, keep clean, and transplant at eighteen inches or two feet high. I hope that you will not forget broad nuts, English walnuts, (and black walnuts, too,) filberts, hazelnuts, and chestnuts. I will bring or send you. I saw trees of this sort planted about a century ago, at Houghton Hall, by the great Sir R. Walpole, from two to three feet in diameter. This was in August, 1826. They afford a noble shade as well as valuable fruit.

Get Cobbett's American Gardener. It can be had at Pishey Thomson's, in Washington. Spare no expense or labor for good enclosures, and a tight warm house. The parsimony I preached up does not extend to the exclusion of comforts. I hope never to see a fire place in our house without shovel and tongs and fender, nor with broken windows. When I was on a visit to poor B., he had eight or ten sponging visitors and their horses, and it was with difficulty that I could get a basin or towel; even the most necessary article in a bed chamber was missing. I do not mean the bed, for there was one, although most uncomfortable. No; furnish your rooms well, however plainly. It is a first expense for the whole of your life. Plate and china, and glass, you will have no occasion to buy.

I shall probably never see how you and my darling niece succeed as housekeepers. Daily and every day I find that I am sinking. To be laid by the side of my honored parents at Old Mattoax, is now the only wish that I have personally to myself. No tombstone, no monument for me. Let "spring with dewy fingers cold" dress the turf that shall cover my no longer feverish head or throbbing heart. If there be any memorial of me, let it be a plain head-stone, with this inscription: "John Randolph of Roanoke, son of John Randolph, the elder, and Frances Bland, his wife and stepson, of Virginia, born June 2d, 1773, died ——— 1831." Beyond this last period I feel that it is impossible, short of a miracle, for my existence to be prolonged. "Thy will be done."

I am now closely confined to my apartment with faithful John's aid. I have all the comforts that I am now capable of enjoying; my life hangs upon his.

I had liked to omitted one special caution against going to the watering places in autumn in search of health. It is an idle, dissipated, and expensive practice. If you are to live in the lower country, you must accustom yourself to the climate, which I have no hesitation in saying is in every way more healthy than that of the upper country short of the Alleghany. When I was a boy, agues and fevers were hardly known twenty miles west of the falls of the great rivers.

The inhabitants of the lower country were always jeered by the trans-mountain people, especially on account of their sickly climate.—But now the valley is, perhaps the sickiest in the State. Who ever heard of the breaking up of old William and Mary by an indigenous plague? In case you should go far enough west (to Montgomery or Wythe) to avoid autumnal disease, you must count upon dying the first time that circumstances oblige you to spend the season at home. There never was a complaint of sickness at Warner Hall until the last Warner introduced the rum fever. The notion of ill health has been a pretext to cover the love of gadding and gossipping; and for a winter climate, and spring, especially, (not to mention roads,) there is no comparison.

Pray mention Mrs. V. Bibber's lowest price for her estate, and John Tabb's also, if practicable.

Adieu my children.

J. R., of Roanoke.

To John Randolph Bryant, Esq.

December 29, 1830. The weather has been very cold, (15 deg. of Fahrenheit,) but it has moderated. I see that the New York packet, of the 1st of this month, has arrived. Papers of that date are in town. I received a letter from W. Leigh, of the 21st November, which must have come by it. I have been more and more unwell for the last three days.

London, December 29, 1830.

CIRCULAR.

TO THE PUBLIC:

The undersigned has now ready for the press a volume, the result of the lucubrations of many years, entitled a "Short Treatise on Chronology in General, and especially on Classical Chronology" The work is not intended to be a chronological chart, nor yet a collection of dates and synchronistic tables. The author's aim has been to prepare a "Horn Book" of Chronology, containing the leading principles, laws and facts of that science.

The FIRST part treats of measuring time and adjusting its various divisions; the SECOND of fixing Dates of historical events and arranging them in order; and the THIRD, of miscellaneous matters important to the chronologist.

UNDER THE FIRST DIVISION are discussed the day, the week, the month, the year and certain cycles used in computing the civil calendar and preparing the Almanac; the origin, history, nature, character, and various sub-divisions of each, especially among the ancients.

UNDER THE SECOND DIVISION the methods of ascertaining the dates or the time when they occurred; the actual dates of some important eras whose epochs are disputed; the most important epochs and eras which have been employed at different times and by different nations, including those which are still in use; and the actual dates of the most prominent events in classical chronology.

UNDER THE THIRD AND LAST DIVISION are considered the epochs and eras of less importance; a sketch of the chronology of India and of China; the principles of the art of mnemotechyny as applied to dates, and the different systems of that art which have been propounded.

The author believes that a work successfully executed upon this plan, though it may not contain very much that is new, cannot but be useful and profitable, not only to the reading public, but also to the youth of our country, in the acquisition of classical and historical learning: and HISTORY will be THE STUDY of this age; it must always be the study of thoughtful men in times of revolution and great political changes, such as our country is at present undergoing.

The contributions of North Carolina, and of the Southern States of the Union generally, to American literature, have heretofore been few, and, for the most part, worthless. A few works of fiction and some fugitive poems include our past efforts; and, with the excellent Latin Grammar, and the edition of Cæsar's Commentaries, prepared for the press by Col. Bingham—works the very best of their character which have ever fallen under our observation, and which, under more favorable circumstances, will yet win for their author that high reputation in his profession which he merits—our contributions to USEFUL LITERATURE are of the very humblest character. Under such circumstances this book is, with some confidence, presented for public patronage.

The author proposes to publish by subscription. The cost of publication will be fifteen hundred dollars, or more. The book contains about two hundred and fifty 12 mo. pages. It will be brought out in the best style of one of our best American publishers, as to type, paper and binding The cost of single copies delivered will be $2.50.

Persons desiring to subscribe can communicate with the undersigned at Raleigh, but subscript on lists will be opened at various places of business in Raleigh and other towns in the State. Subscriptions will be required in cash as essential to the success of the enterprise. Editors who will give this Circular a few insertions and forward a copy of their papers containing it to the author, will be furnished with a copy of the book.

The volume will be placed in the hands of the publisher as soon as the author's success is at all assured, and will be issued to subscribers a few weeks thereafter.

Desirable Farm for Sale.

THE PLANTATION SITUATED ABOUT TWO and a half miles from the village of Magnolia on the Wilmington and Weldon R. R., between that place and Kenansville, and known as "Barbacue," is offered for sale. The tract contains 580 acres, 100 of which are cleared and have been under cultivation, producing excellent Corn, Wheat, potatoes, &c. A portion of the land is also well adapted to the culture of cotton. An inexhaustible bed of Marl, a large spring of as good water as can be found in the State, and a never failing stream, running through the center of the cleared land, are among the attractions of the place.

The timbered portion of the land being nearest the Rail Road, and the entire place being easy of access to a first rate market, make it a highly desirable location for growing produce, raising stock and selling timber. Any one having the cash, can procure a bargain by applying immediately to
